SUB-FUND SUITABILITY

WHO IS THE SUB-FUND SUITABLE FOR?

The ILP Sub-Fund is only suitable for investors who seek exposure to Asian Equities and are willing to accept high volatility. Investors in this type of Fund should have an investment horizon of at least 5-10 years. There should also be an understanding that Asian Equities can experience higher volatility than the market average (as represented by a diversified portfolio of large cap global Equities) due to among other things political and economic instability. Please note the ILP Sub-Fund does not distribute income and where applicable will re-invest any income received from the underlying Fund.

It is important to remember that, as with most investments, the value of your investments are not guaranteed and can go down as well as up. Therefore, we suggest that you only invest money that can be committed for the medium to long term. You should also bear in mind that securities held within a Fund may not be denominated in the currency of that Fund, so unit prices may fall purely on account of exchange rate fluctuations.

Please note that Friends Provident International Limited ("FPIL") investment products are intended for medium to long-term investment and are not therefore designed for early surrender. If you do surrender early, a product surrender charge may be applied. Please note that the earlier you terminate your plan, the more you may lose.

Additional Information

-For details of surrender charges please refer to the 'Fees and Charges' section in the relevant Product Summary.

-Please refer to 'Appendix A - Equity Funds- Asia' within the underlying Fund's Prospectus for further information on the suitability of the Sub-Fund.

KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

-The value of an investment is not guaranteed and can go up and down depending on performance. You could get back less than you have paid in. At times, the ILP Sub-Fund may (Subject to the Appointed Actuary's agreement and provisions allowed for in the Policy Conditions) need to change the way its price is calculated, to ensure that those moving in and out of the ILP Sub-Fund are fairly treated. This can have a negative effect on the ILP Sub-Fund's price and performance.

-Fund managers have the ability, in exceptional circumstances, to suspend trading in their Funds for as long as necessary. When this occurs, we will need to delay the redeeming or switching of units in the relevant Fund. You may not be able to access your money during this period.

These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:

Additional Information

-Please refer to the 'Valuations and Pricing' section of your Policy Conditions for further information.

-Please refer to 'Section 8 -Risk Warnings' section of the underlying Fund's Prospectus for further information on the risks of the Fund.

-Please refer to the 'Risks' section of the relevant Product Summary for further information.

Market and Credit Risks

Currency Risks

-The Fund's assets may be invested in securities denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund. The Net Asset Value of the Fund may be adversely impacted by changes in exchange rates between such securities and the base currency of the Fund.

Volatility Risks

-Investors should note that volatility in the Fund's investment portfolio may result in large fluctuations in the Net Asset Value of the Fund. This may adversely affect the Net Asset Value per share of the Fund, and investors may as a result suffer losses.

Equity Risks

-The value of, and income derived from, Equity securities held may fall as well as rise and the Fund may not recoup the original amount invested in such securities. The prices of, and the income generated by, Equity securities may decline in response to certain events, including the activities and results of the issuer, general economic and market conditions, regional or global economic instability and currency and interest rate fluctuations. Thus, this may adversely influence the Fund and/or the interests of investors.

Interest Rate Risks

-The Bonds or Fixed Income Securities that the Fund invests in may fall in value if the interest rates change. Longer-term Debt Securities are usually more sensitive to interest rate changes.

Liquidity Risks

Liquidity Risks

-The Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the securities in which it invests which may impair the Fund's ability to execute transactions. In such circumstances, some of the Fund's securities may become illiquid which may mean the Fund may experience difficulties in selling securities at a fair price within a timely manner.

Product-Specific Risks

Emerging Markets Risks

-Investments in Emerging Markets may be more volatile than investments in more developed markets. Some of these markets may have relatively unstable governments, economies based on only a few industries and securities markets that trade only a limited number of securities. Investors should note the special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets such as, liquidity risk, currency risks/control, political and economic uncertainties, policy, legal or regulatory events affecting the relevant markets and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.

Stock Connect Risks

-Investments through Stock Connect are subject to additional risks, namely, quota limitations, suspension risk, operational risk, restrictions on selling imposed by front-end monitoring, recalling of eligible stocks, clearing and settlement risks, nominee arrangements in holding China A-Shares and regulatory risk.

ESG Investment Risks

- Applying Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) criteria to the investment process may exclude securities of certain issuers for non-financial reasons and, therefore, may forgo some market opportunities available to Funds that do not use ESG or sustainability criteria. The securities held by the Fund may be Subject to style drift, which no longer meet the Fund's ESG criteria after investment. The Investment Manager may need to dispose of such securities when it might be disadvantageous to do so. This may lead to a fall in the value of the Fund. The use of ESG criteria may also result in the Fund being concentrated in companies with ESG focus, increasing the volatility of the Fund.

Lending Risks

-The Fund could still be exposed to a risk of loss should a borrower default on its obligation to return the borrowed securities and the value of the collateral received fall below the daily marked to market value of the stocks on loan. This risk can be mitigated by contractual indemnification provided by the stock lending agent. This could also affect the Fund's ability to sell securities on loan in a timely manner in order to meet redemption requests. The Fund is also exposed to counterparty risk from the lending agent.

APPENDIX : GLOSSARY OF TERMS
Bond/Fixed Interest Security

A type of investment that represents a written promise to repay a debt at an agreed time and to pay an agreed rate of interest on that debt. It provides periodic payments (which may be fixed or variable) and the return of capital at maturity. Generally, because these types of assets guarantee an income and can be less risky than other types of assets, they offer a lower return.

China A-Shares

Shares issued by companies listed on the Shanghai or Shenzhen stock exchange and denominated in RMB.

Convertible Debt

A security, exchanged for a predetermined number of Equity related securities, at the discretion of the issuer and/or the holder.

Debt Securities

A debt instrument that can be bought or sold between two parties. Examples of Debt Securities include Government Bonds, Preferred Stock and Mortgage-Backed Securities.

Efficient Portfolio Management (EPM)

EPM is a set of standards for prudent management of investment Funds. The standards call for economically appropriate transactions that reduce risk, reduce cost or generate additional capital or income. For example, a currency overlay strategy using derivative instruments could be used to reduce volatility in asset returns resulting from currency fluctuations or be used to take advantage of these fluctuations to gain extra return.

Environmental Social and Governance (ESG)

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) criteria are a set of standards for a company's operations that socially conscious investors use to screen potential investments. Environmental criteria consider how a company performs as a steward of nature. Social criteria examine how it manages relationships with employees, suppliers, customers, and the communities where it operates. Governance deals with a company's leadership, executive pay, audits, internal controls, and shareholder rights.

Emerging Markets

Typically includes markets within countries that have an underdeveloped or developing infrastructure with significant potential for economic growth and increased capital market participation for foreign investors. These countries generally possess some of the following characteristics; recent economic liberalisation, debt ratings below investment grade, recent liberalisation of the political system and non-membership of the Organisation of Economic Cooperation and Development. Because many emerging countries do not allow short selling or offer viable futures or other derivatives products with which to hedge, Emerging Market investing entails investing in geographic regions that have underdeveloped capital markets and exhibit high growth rates and high rates of inflation. Investing in Emerging Markets can be very volatile and may involve currency, political and liquidity risk.

Equities

Ownership positions in companies that can be traded in public markets. Often produce current income which may be paid in the form of dividends. In the event of the company going bankrupt, Equity holders' claims are subordinate to the claims of preferred stockholders and bondholders

Expense Ratio

The Expense Ratio provides customers with an indication of the overall costs of investing in a particular Fund. The Expense Ratio is calculated in accordance with the Investment Management Association of Singapore's guidelines on the disclosure of Expense Ratios. Different methods can be used when calculating the Expense Ratio of a Fund, including Total Expense Ratio (TER) and Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) but these are broadly the same.

Financial Derivative Instruments (FDI)

Also known as derivatives, they are financial contracts, the value of which is tied to an underlying asset. Examples of derivatives include futures, options and warrants.

Money Market Instruments

Money Market instruments are highly liquid, fixed income securities, issued by governments and corporations with high credit ratings. Because of the high quality of the issuers and because of the short-term maturities, Money Market Instruments are considered to be relatively secure investments.

Net Asset Value (NAV)

Net Asset Value is the value of the net assets of the Fund after deducting all expenses.

Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF)

A type of Expense Ratio. The Ongoing Charges Figure is based on expenses for the previous year and is a ratio of the total ongoing charges to the Fund's average Net Asset Value over its last reporting period. This figure may vary from year to year. The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of the underlying ILP Sub-Fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

For more information on charges, please consult the Prospectus for the underlying Fund of the ILP Sub-Fund invested in, available from <https://www.fpinternational.sg/phs>. Details of the calculation methodology can be found in full at https://www.esma.europa.eu/sites/default/files/library/2015/11/10_674.pdf

Open-Ended Investment Company

An Open-Ended Collective Investment vehicle, structured as an investment company, where new shares are created or redeemed, depending on demand from investors.

Securities Lending

The act of loaning a stock, derivative or other type of security to an investor or firm. Securities Lending requires the borrower to put up collateral, whether cash, security or a letter of credit. When a security is loaned, the title and the ownership is also transferred to the borrower.

SFDR

Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector.

Societe d'Investissement a Capital Variable (SICAV)

A Collective Investment Scheme common in Western Countries, especially Luxembourg and Malta.

Specified Investment Product (SIP)

SIP is a class of investment products defined by the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS). Generally (although not in all instances), financial advisers have to carry out more due diligence, including customer knowledge assessments, when advising about a SIP.

Stock Connect

The mutual market access programme through which investors achieve mutual stock market access between mainland China and Hong Kong, via permitted securities listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange (SSE), Shenzhen Stock Exchange (SZSE) and Hong Kong Stock Exchanges.
