SUB-FUND SUITABILITY

WHO IS THE SUB-FUND SUITABLE FOR?

- -The ILP Sub-Fund is only suitable for an investor who wishes to have the investment exposure as set out in the Fund's investment objective and policy and is comfortable taking on the risks as set in this document. It may be suitable for investors managing their longer term cash positions or their short term liquidity. Please note the ILP Sub-Fund does not distribute income and where applicable will re-invest any income received from the underlying fund.
- -Please note that the purchase of a unit in this Fund is not the same as placing funds on deposit with a bank or deposit-taking financial institution.
- -This Fund is not a guaranteed fund and there is no guarantee as to the amount of capital invested or return received.
- -It is important to remember that, as with most investments, the value of your investments are not guaranteed and can go down as well as up. Therefore we suggest that you only invest money that can be committed for the medium to long term. You should also bear in mind that securities held within a fund may not be denominated in the currency of that fund, so unit prices may fall purely on account of exchange rate fluctuations.
- -Please note that Friends Provident International Limited ("FPIL") investment products are intended for medium to long term investment and are not therefore designed for early surrender. If you do surrender early, a product surrender charge may be applied. Please note that the earlier you terminate your plan, the more you may lose.

Additional Information

-For details of surrender charges please refer to the section on 'Fees and Charges' in the relevant Product Summary.
-Please refer to Section 2 Sterling Money Fund in Appendix 1 of the underlying fund's prospectus for further information on the suitability of the Sub-Fund.

-The Sub-Fund aims to give holders of the relevant Shares access to income at wholesale Eurocurrency market interest rates in Sterling. This Sub-Fund is a short-term variable net asset value money market fund and while the Sub-Fund aims to preserve capital, this is not guaranteed.

The Sub-Fund seeks to achieve its objective by investing in short-term deposits and other short-term financial instruments available on the Eurocurrency markets and on the relevant domestic markets (where interest is earned free of withholding tax). The deposits shall have a maximum maturity of six months and certificates of deposit and other short term financial instruments (including bank acceptances, commercial paper, liquid short-term debt securities including treasury bills, bonds, floating rate notes and other debt securities) shall have a maximum residual maturity of twelve months. The weighted average life and weighted average maturity of the portfolio will fluctuate according to the Investment Manager's opinion on interest rates, but without exceeding a weighted average life of 120 days, or a weighted average maturity of 60 days.

A conservative and rigorous approach to credit assessment is adopted and specific limits are established for each bank and institution with which deposits maybe made and whose other short-term financial instruments maybe held in respect of the Sub-Fund.

Although the investments comprising the Sub-Fund are usually denominated in Sterling, investments may be made which are denominated in another currency provided that the relevant currency exposure is hedged back into Sterling.

The Sub-Fund will exclusively be allowed to use derivatives for the purposes of hedging interest rate risk or exchange rate risks inherent in other investments of the Sub-Fund.

-Please refer to the 'Investment Policies' and 'Investment Restrictions and Techniques and Instruments' sections and to Section 2 Sterling Money Fund in Appendix 1 of the underlying fund's prospectus for further information on the investment strategy of the Fund.

KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

-The value of an investment is not guaranteed and can go up and down depending on performance. You could get back less than you have paid in. At times, a fund may, subject to the Appointed Actuary's agreement and provisions allowed for in the Policy Conditions, need to change the way its price is calculated, to ensure that those moving into and out of the fund are treated fairly. This can have a negative effect on a fund's price and performance.

-Fund managers have the ability, in exceptional circumstances, to suspend trading in their funds for as long as necessary. When this occurs we will need to delay the 'cashing in' or switching of units in the relevant fund. You may not be able to access your money during this period.

These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:

Summary for further information. Market and Credit Risks You are exposed to investment risk -The underlying investments of the Fund may fall in value and therefore your investment in the Fund may suffer losses. The Fund has no guaranteed dividend payment. You are exposed to money market instruments risk -Money market instruments in which the Fund invests are subject to the solvency of the underlying issuer. The buying and selling of money market instruments is exposed to liquidity constraints in the market. While every effort will be made to maintain the capital value of the Fund, there is no guarantee that this will be the case as a loss made on an instrument held by the Fund could reduce the capital value of the Fund. You are exposed to inflation risk -Inflation erodes the real value of all investments and changes in the anticipated rate of inflation could lead to capital losses in the Fund's investments. Liquidity Risks You are exposed to liquidity risks -There may be occasions when the fund manager is unable to sell some or all of the assets within the portfolio, which could delay payment or redemption of proceeds. Product-Specific Risks Please be aware that neither the issue nor the redemption of Shares in the Fund is equivalent to the placing of funds on deposit with, or the withdrawal of a deposit, from a licensed or a restricted licensed bank or registered deposit-taking company, and the Investment Manager has no obligation to redeem Shares in relation to the Fund at the prices at which they were issued. You are exposed to the risk of investing in a money market fund rather than a cash deposit account -Cash funds are not cash deposit accounts and can fall in value. In a low interest rate environment the charges applied to the fund may be greater than its return, so you may not get back all of your original investment. You are exposed to income yield risk The level of any yield arising from interest and/or dividend payments, and other such sources of income, for a Sub-Fund may be subject to fluctuations and is not guaranteed. Therefore the related distribution amount paid, or deemed to be paid, from any Sub-Fund's Share Class may also fluctuate over time and is not guaranteed. You are exposed to interest rate risk -The earnings or market value of the Fund may be affected by changes in interest rates. Any such changes may have a direct effect on the income received by the Fund and its capital value. You are exposed to derivatives usage risk -The Fund may use derivatives for the purposes of hedging and/or EPM. In adverse situations, the Fund's use of derivatives may become ineffective in hedging and/or in EPM and the Fund may suffer significant losses. APPENDIX: GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Bank Acceptance

A short-term credit investment created by a non-financial firm and guaranteed by a bank.

Bond/Fixed Interest Security

A bond is a type of investment that represents a written promise to repay a debt at an agreed time and to pay an agreed rate of interest on that debt. It provides periodic payments (which may be fixed or variable) and the return of capital at maturity. Generally, because these types of assets produce an income and can be less risky than other types of assets they offer a lower return.

Certificate of Deposit

A savings certificate entitling the bearer to receive interest. It bears a maturity date, a specified fixed interest rate and can be issued in any denomination. They are generally issued by commercial banks.

Commercial Paper

An unsecured obligation issued by a corporation or bank to finance its short-term credit needs.

Debt Security

A debt investment, with which the investor loans money to an entity (company or government) that borrows the funds for a defined period of time at a specified interest rate. The indebted entity issues investors a certificate, or bond, that states the interest rate (coupon rate) that will be paid and when the loaned funds are to be returned (maturity date).

Derivatives

Also known as Financial Derivative Instruments (FDI). Financial contracts whose value is tied to an underlying asset. Derivatives include futures and options.

Efficient Portfolio Management (EPM)

EPM is a set of standards for prudent management of investment funds. The standards call for economically appropriate transactions that reduce risk, reduce cost or generate additional capital or income. For example, a currency overlay strategy using derivative instruments could be used to reduce volatility in asset returns resulting from currency fluctuations or be used to take advantage of these fluctuations to gain extra return.

Expense Ratio

The Expense ratio provides customers with an indication of the overall costs of investing in a particular fund.

The expense ratio as calculated in accordance with the Investment Management Association of Singapore's guidelines on the disclosure of expense ratios. Different methods of calculation of Expense Ratio can be used, including Total Expense Ratio (TER) and Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) but these are broadly the same.

Floating Rate Note

A bond with a variable interest rate. For example, a note may have an interest rate of "EURIBOR + 1%" and pay whatever the EURIBOR rate happens to be at the time plus 1%.

Forward Currency Contracts

With Forward Currency Contracts, the contract holders are obligated to buy or sell the currency at a specified price, at a specified quantity and on a specified future date. These contracts cannot be transferred.

Hedge / Hedging

Any transaction with the objective of limiting exposure to risk such as changes in exchange rates or prices.

Interest Rate

The measure of the amount paid to the lender by the borrower in return for the initial loan. For example, if the interest rate is 7% and the borrower has borrowed $100 they will pay interest of $7 per year. (The average of interest rate offered by financial institutions to one another over the short term is known as LIBOR (the London Inter Bank Offered Rate).

Mutual Fund

An investment vehicle that is made up of a pool of funds collected from many investors for the purpose of investing in securities such as stocks, bonds, money market instruments and similar assets.

Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF)

A type of expense ratio. The ongoing charges figure is based on expenses for the previous year and is a ratio of the total ongoing charges to the fund's average net asset value over its last reporting period. This figure may vary from year to year. The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of the underlying ILP sub-fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

For more information about charges, please consult the Prospectus for the underlying fund of the ILP sub-fund invested in, available from http://www.fpinternational.sg/fund-centre/product-highlight-sheets.jsp.

Details of the calculation methodology can be found in full at http://www.esma.europa.eu/system/files/10_1321.pdf.

Specified Investment Product (SIP)

SIP is a class of investment products defined by the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS). Generally, (although not in all instances), financial advisers have to carry out more due diligence, including customer knowledge assessment, when advising about a SIP.
